ISSUANCE OF EMERGENCY PROTECTIVE ORDERS
DURING STATE OF EMERGENCY

On April 6, 2020, the Judicial Council of California adopted a series of emergency rules designed to protect the public and to provide access to the courts during the COVID-19 pandemic. Emergency Rule 9(b) provides that any emergency protective order made under Family Code section 6250 that is issued or set to expire during the state of emergency must remain in effect for up to 30 days from the date of issuance.

Therefore, it is ordered that all emergency protective orders issued pursuant to Family Code section 6250 during the current state of emergency shall have an expiration date which is 30 calendar days from the date of issuance. A copy of Family Code section 6250 is attached to this order and incorporated by reference.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

- (b) That a child is in immediate and present danger of abuse by a family or household member, based on an allegation of a recent incident of abuse or threat of abuse by the family or household member.
- (c) That a child is in immediate and present danger of being abducted by a parent or relative, based on a reasonable belief that a person has an intent to abduct the child or flee with the child from the jurisdiction or based on an allegation of a recent threat to abduct the child or flee with the child from the jurisdiction.
- (d) That an elder or dependent adult is in immediate and present danger of abuse as defined in Section 15610.07 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, based on an allegation of a recent incident of abuse or threat of abuse by the person against whom the order is sought, except that no emergency protective order shall be issued based solely on an allegation of financial abuse.
